

ILM Team Leading Award

The ILM Level 2 Award in Team Leading is designed specifically to give practising or aspiring team leaders a solid foundation in their formal professional development as a leader. The programme is the ideal starting point to develop your current leaders and leaders of the future to allow them to manage their teams/departments more efficiently.

The three day course is a concise qualification providing delegates with a basic knowledge of the various roles, functions and responsibilities of a team leader.

Units covered:

- Developing yourself as a team leader
- Motivating the work team to perform
- Workplace communication

The mandatory unit ‘Developing yourself as a team leader’ is perfect for new or aspiring leaders who wish to gain a solid understanding of the principles and practicalities of team leading.

The unit ‘Motivating your work team to perform’ focuses on performance management, how to deal with poor performance and motivating your team to perform to the required standard.

The unit ‘Workplace communication’ covers a variety of communication methods to ensure effective communication between the team leader and the team. The unit will help delegates develop skills to overcome communication barriers.
